Thank you for taking the time to get to know us...

We are so grateful that you are considering us as you make the decision as to who will raise your child. We know that this time is most difficult and we pray that you are blessed immeasurably for choosing to give the gift of adoption. While photos never do justice to the real thing, we hope that something in these pages speak to you. No matter your decision, we are very thankful to you and we will be praying for you and your baby. If we ARE the family, we hope that you will find total peace in the fact that we will absolutely, completely and unconditionally love any child we are so blessed to adopt.

about us

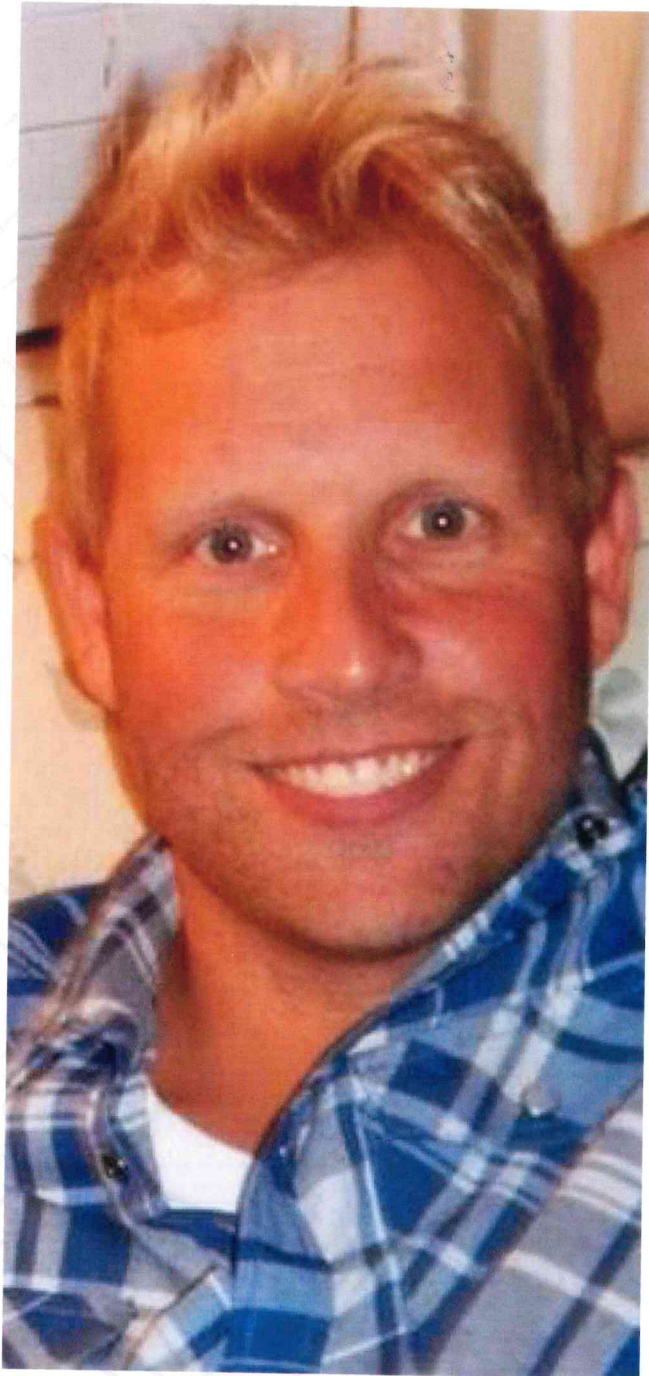

HOW WE MET

On the coldest day of Fall, we met after attending a friend's comedy show. After the audience filed out of the theater into the cold, we found ourselves standing next to each other as we huddled patiently outside, waiting for the cast to appear. The show had been incredible, and as strangers sometimes do, the mutual excitement made us fast friends.

Little did we know just how much we had in common. While we were both taken with each other, we both left wondering if and when we would ever see each other again. As it turns out, we didn't have to wait very long! Just days later, we were reintroduced and have never been apart.

Throughout the next year we fell in love, both with each other and in making each other laugh. We married, welcomed our daughter and have built a sweet life together. To this day, laughter is still our love language.

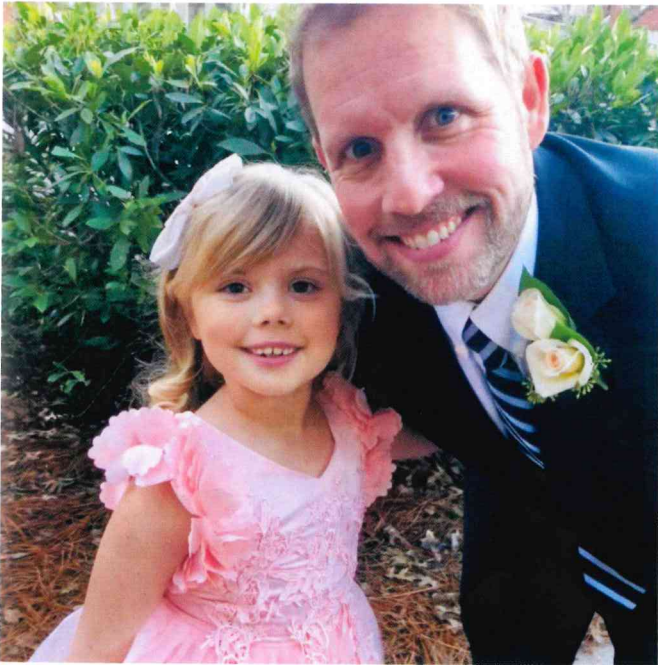

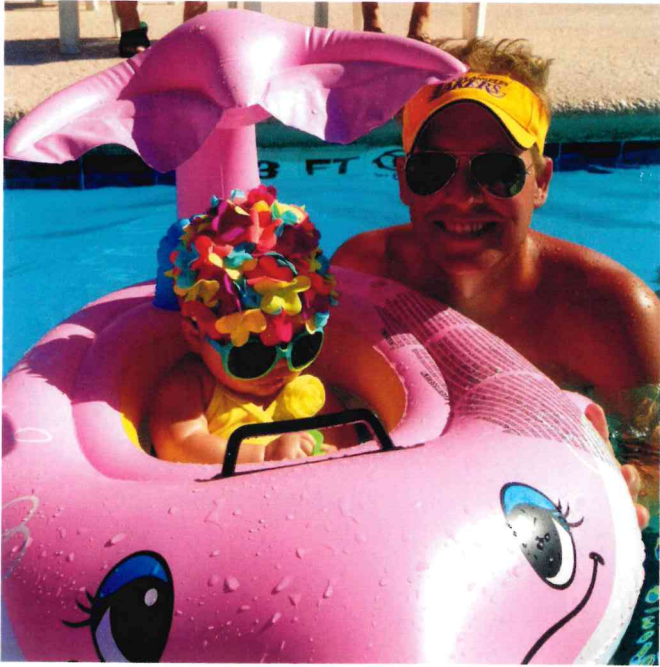

a little about
FLOYD

Grew up in the Southeast
Lived on the West Coast for 17 years

Favorite Pastimes: College Football & making people laugh

Floyd, in his own words:

Recently, somebody asked me, "What job would you choose if you could do anything in the world." My answer? Dad. I'm a husband, son, brother, uncle, friend... and many other things to many other people, but nothing compares to being my little girl's Daddy. Being her 'Daddy' is the best thing that I could ever hope to be. It is, without a doubt, the greatest responsibility of my life. Compassion, discipline, manners, self-respect, respect for others... these values are at the center of who I am. I've always had someone that loved me unconditionally, guided and protected me and that is who I strive to be for Vivienne, and who I vow to be for any child that we are so fortunate to love.

Cynthia, in her own words:

I am a dreamer of big dreams. I have always tried to approach life believing that anything is possible, no matter the odds. When we were told that we would not be able to conceive a second child, my heart simply would not accept it. How could I forego the greatest of all of my dreams? Our last few years have been filled with miscarriage and loss but our dream of adding to our family is greater than ever! Adoption is the answer to our prayers and any child we are so blessed to call ours will be our dream fulfilled. As a mother, my greatest prayer is that I instill the love of Jesus, impart the freedom that there is nothing one can do to fall from our unconditional love and to always nurture and inspire life's big dreams.

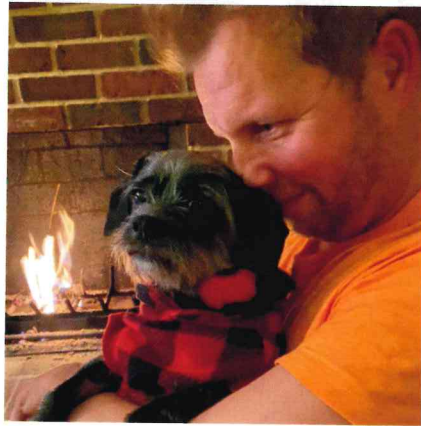

a little about
VIVIENNE

*Inherited our love of laughter
Wants to be a Popstar Cowgirl
Loves so freely
Makes friends easily
Her greatest dream is to have a baby brother or baby sister*

Vivi is an incredibly happy, kind and funny little girl who lives life to the fullest and faces each day with genuine excitement. She believes in the motto of JOY representing:

Jesus-Others-Yourself.

She has experienced the hope of us expecting a sibling only to have that dream taken from her... time and time again. During these heartbreaking moments, where she was also feeling great loss, we were humbled by her incredible empathy towards us. Even at her tender age she knows that long after we are gone from this earth, the relationship, the bond between siblings, is one that you carry with you for all of your days. If you want your child to be loved and valued immeasurably by a sibling, there is no one with greater love to give than our Vivienne.

a little about OUR BOYS

While on our honeymoon, a little black puppy popped up on Floyd's Petfinder app. The little guy had lost his fur to mange and, if he lived, would be difficult to get adopted. The day after we returned home, we headed to the rescue to meet him. What we didn't know is that his litter mate and brother was also up for adoption. The moment we laid eyes on the two of them it was all over.

Total and complete love at first sight.

Our little boys, Walker and Fletch, love us so unconditionally and have been the most incredible source of comfort in our journey to become parents. They have traveled everywhere with us and truly bring such joy wherever they go. They are pure love and are most valued members of our family. We truly couldn't imagine our lives without them!

Our Home

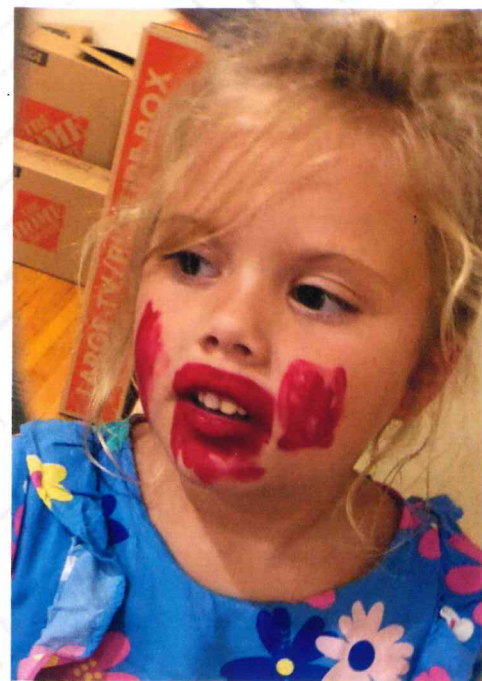

How Camille Thinks of Floyd

What if I fall?

Oh, my darling, what if you fly?

Since the beginning, Floyd has always felt like HOME to me. Not just because he was from where I was from, but because who he is on the inside so mirrored who my parents had raised me to be.

He is my love, my equal partner and my best, best friend. To Vivienne, he is her beloved daddy, playmate, protector and personal laugh factory. To our pups, he is committed to their health, safety and happiness. To our family, including his in-laws, he is regarded as SON and has earned their complete trust through his total devotion to us all. As a friend, he is the first and last phone call as he is always there to provide a helping hand or word of encouragement. He is, without a doubt, the best decision that I have ever made and proves to us daily that we are the center of his world. We are all so very lucky to be his!

How Floyd Thinks of Camille

Be yourself, everybody else is taken!

My Camille: she's full of love, laughter, loyalty, intelligence, strength, perseverance, and strong moral character. She's a beautiful, social butterfly, and her smile lights up any room she enters. Truly, my words in print won't do her justice. She's the most loving person I know, and beloved by others. My wife is the friend that every other friend calls when they are in need. She is often referred to as 'the glue' because she brings so many people together. When I look in the mirror (on my best days), I see her reflection... because the greatest things in my life have come from her. She's a natural born leader, not a follower, but also knows when to seek guidance and let others take the reins. She inspires our daughter, and would any child that we would be so lucky to love, to dream big and believe that anything is possible.

The bridge in Karlovy Vary, Czech Republic

Our Adoption Story

Our journey to complete our family has taken us through 11 rounds of IVF.. from both coasts and even across the globe. Our 6th round led us to the Czech Republic, where we would eventually visit five more times. It was on this bridge that we witnessed a moment of God's beauty with an unexpected snowfall, a reminder that even in our darkest hours, He is with us. While there were so many beautiful moments, these years were filled with unbearable grief, disappointment and loss. But, despite it all, the one constant that remained was our love and our belief that we serve a God that still performs miracles! This hope has lead us to adoption, where we truly believe God will give us the desire of our hearts. When we left the bridge that day, we left a symbol of our love and vowed that no matter what, we would never, ever, lose hope.

Adventures

Our promise to you...

Philippians 4:6-7 Be anxious for nothing, but in everything by prayer and supplication, with thanksgiving, let your requests be made known to God; and the peace of God, which surpasses all understanding, will guard your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus.

This is our verse.

The last 5 years we have clung to this verse throughout countless loss... twin miscarriage, late miscarriage, missed miscarriage, partial miscarriage, chemical pregnancies and failed IVFs. We truly believe that all we have endured was leading us to a baby, one that we would never have been able to love, had any of the above situations come to fruition. We believe that God is redeeming our story through this gift of adoption. We pray that you also feel this peace that passes all understanding throughout all the days of your life.

We can only begin to understand the difficulty of your journey and we are in awe of your strength as you make the decision as to who will love your child as their own. What you are doing is nothing short of heroic and we hope that your heart recognizes it as such. Any child that we are so lucky to adopt will always know the incredible bravery of their birth mother and we vow to spend our lives nurturing that inherent courage. Most books finish the final chapter with THE END. For us, this is a new beginning and truly is the birth of the best chapter of our lives.

Love, Camille, Floyd and Vivienne
